2023 CCL Mudgee Wine Show

Wine Show committee: Debbie Lauritz, Tim White, Liam Heslop, Pat Auld, Shiralee Archer, Deborah Clear

Go Tasting Committee: Sam McKendry, Graeme Salt, Kate Rose, Janet Donovan, Steph Hamilton, Kim Nelson

Dinner Committee: Sam McKendry, Janet Donovan

The Mudgee Wine Show committee was very pleased to run yet another successful wine show this year, back in our usual month of September. There were 237 entries in total from 29 exhibitors, with 11% gold, 14% Silver, 38% Bronze medals, meaning a 63% medal strike rate

Thanks to all the exhibitors for another well supported & successful wine show. We received a total of 237 entries for this year's show from 29 different exhibitors.

We would like to thank all our major sponsors for their continued support of the Mudgee wine show; Cudgegong Rural Supplies, RSN Australia (Spiegelau Riedel), Orora Beverage, Plasdene Glass-Pak, McGrath Real Estate and Mudgee Wine Association; alongside CCL Clear Image Labels as this year's major sponsor.

A huge thank you for the many hours of volunteering that all the stewards have provided to run the show, in particular Liam Heslop as Chief Steward. This will be Liam's last year in running the group of stewards, many thanks Liam for all your help over the years.

We've had a changing of the guard this year for catering during the judging, with Shiralee Archer providing ideas & advice after many years of experience; and Deb Clear preparing & serving up amazing sandwiches, soups & sausage rolls. Thank you both for your help & wonderful food that keeps everyone going throughout the show. Sponsorship & trophies were again organised by Pat Auld, it is great to see some new sponsors this year, which is never an easy job, so well done again Pat.

Tim White who runs the Showrunner software that manages all entries, classes, judging & trophies, thanks for your many unseen hours of work in the weeks leading up to & during the show.

Lastly, a big thank you to all our judges for providing their time to professionally & carefully judge our wines & provide constructive feedback. This year we have supported some of our local talent, with one judge & two associate judges, specifically to provide the opportunity & the encouragement of our local winemakers to get more experience & involvement in wine show judging & the wine show system.

We are looking forward to a wonderful celebration at the Trophy Dinner at Blue Wren, to enjoy our award winning local Mudgee wines alongside amazing local produce, most importantly with all the locals.

Kind Regards,

Debbie Lauritz - Wine Show Chair

JUDGES

XANTHE HATCHER — Agnew Wines

After growing up in Sydney and studying a dual winemaking and viticultural degree, Xanthe supported her studies with a wine retail management role that fueled her passion, leading her in 2009 to embark on her winemaking career in the Hunter Valley. Initially with prominent Hunter brand Hungerford Hill, Xanthe was later invited to join family-owned Agnew wines in 2013. Working through the ranks, Xanthe was granted the opportunity to become Chief Winemaker for Agnew Wines in 2019, her current role, which she fulfills with much commitment, gratitude, and pride. The Agnew Wines Pokolbin winery processes 2000 tonnes of wine grapes annually. In her role, Xanthe is custodian of three brands in the Agnew portfolio, Cockfighters Ghost, Poole's Rock, and Audrey Wilkinson, for which she is just the 4th company winemaker since 1866. Five high-profile company vineyards similarly fall under Xanthe's governance, with all but the McLaren Vale 'Chairman's' vineyard, located in the Hunter Valley. The Pokolbin winery is well equipped to produce wine under contract, by which Xanthe manages the wine style requirements and the business relationships with over fifteen New South Wales wine companies.

ROB BLACK — Black Wines

Rob was born in Orange and after studying Oenology at Charles Sturt University (1998-2000) worked in other wine regions both in Australia and in France before deciding to return and make his home in Mudgee. He is grateful to have worked alongside Neville Rowe and James Gosper at Domaine Chandon in the Yarra Valley, Andrew Hardy at Petaluma Adelaide Hills, Philip Shaw at Rosemount Estate and Jon Reynolds and Printhe Wines Orange. All of whom have influenced his development. Since 2003, he made Bunnamagoo Estate Wines on a contract basis until 2008 when he was tempted by the prospect of making wine in a brand new 900 tonne winery designed and equipped with his input at Eurunderee. His skill as a winemaker has been widely recognised in his achievements as a finalist in the Wine Society Young Winemaker of the Year 2001 and Young Winemaker ambassador at Wine Australia 2004. Robert also presented "Wine on the Wireless" on ABC Radio National during 2007-2008 and he has taught winemaking and sensory evaluation at TAFE NSW between 2005-2009. In 2009, he completed the Advanced Wine Assessment Course at the AWRI. Recently, Robert has taken the "leap-of-faith" and embarked on his solo journey to create and build a small range of wines under the BLACK label. He continues to have a deep interest in the region and enjoys working within the eclectic mix of winemakers and grape growers of Mudgee.

MELISSA MOORE — LOVE TILLY GROUP

Melissa is an award-winning sommelier and wine educator with experience across all facets of the wine industry. She was selected to be a scholar of the prestigious Len Evans Tutorial and was named Dux of the New Zealand Family of Twelve Tutorial. Melissa was previously Head Sommelier at Merivale and is now Beverage and Operations Manager for the Love Tilly Group. She is also a regular contributor to Wine Pilot reviews, is an experienced content creator, and has contributed to magazines and newspapers including The Sydney Morning Herald with wine selection articles. Melissa has experience as a wine show judge at local and national levels and has been a keynote speaker for trade and consumer tastings and masterclasses. She lives in Sydney with her family.

Associate Judges

ASHTON HENDRIKS — Gilbert Family Wine Co & ED.AN Wines

Ashton is a New Zealand born winemaker who loves being involved in all facets of the wine industry. Following his studies in Viticulture and Oenology at Lincoln University he started his career as a cellar hand at Babich wines in Auckland. From there he set his focus to learn new techniques and styles broad. This led him to travel and work across both the new and old world. These countries include; New Zealand, Australia, the United States, Italy and France, before finally settling down and calling Australia home. He started working for Gilbert Family Wines almost a decade ago as a harvest intern and from there has progressed to winemaker alongside Will and Simon Gilbert. Making an array of wines with a focus on New South Wales. Whilst working as a winemaker for GFW, he has also been fortunate to start his own label ED.AN wines with his wife Carla Hendriks. This small batch production includes a portfolio of over seven wines.

CHRIS JESSOP — Logan Wines & Jessop Wines

Originally from New Zealand, Chris started in the wine industry in 2012. Deciding in 2015 to continue following this career path, he completed a Viticulture and Oenology degree at Lincoln University. From there he hit the vintage trail working in Australia, New Zealand, England and Germany before settling down into a winemaking job in Mudgee with Logan Wines in late 2020.
